To whom it may concern,

I have been acquainted with Matthew Daw for nearly three years. He is one of the finest students I have known in my 30 years of teaching. Matthew has a 3.94 GPA with a 1400 SAT score (ACT equivalent of 30). He has taken four AP classes and numerous college classes. His GPA in the college classes is 4.0. Matthew will have nearly enough credits to graduate with an associate's degree. He is also a Sterling Scholar at Orem HS in Computer Technology.

Matthew has also been heavily involved in many extra curricular activities. He started two clubs at Orem HS of his own volition. The History Club meets in my classroom on Thursdays after school. He has several regulars and they engage in spirited discussions on a variety of topics. Matthew leads those discussions. He also is president of the board game club. He also is a musician. He plays the piano and viola and has performed in a quartet. He ran track for two years.

Matthew is a service-oriented person. His father is a state legislator and has instilled in him the importance of serving his fellow man. Matt organized a fund raiser and help make surprise boxes for the Kids on the Move organization. He has served in several youth church callings and has planned socials and get-togethers for teenagers. His passion is computer programming and with this skill he has developed a program that tracks the work of lobbyists at the Utah State Legislature.

Matthew Daw is truly a Renaissance man. He has developed his skill in many areas. I give Matthew my highest recommendation for any scholarship which he is applying.
